I'm reaching out to contact you about the proliferation of road signs on our streets. I believe things are out of control with the multitudes of signs that are being put up in the name of safety. I find them very distracting as a driver and they degrade the quality of Life in Atlantic Beach. Is there a method that current signs can be assessed as to their need and also reduce the placement of new ones? I have sent this email to my my commissioner and I'm planning on attending a meeting to address these concerns.

I appreciate your attention to this matter.
